This executive will have direct management responsibility for a staff of six, which includes a business manager, director of recruiting, and the director of communications.

Responsibilities

Finance and Budgeting

The Managing Director of Finance and Administration will have overall financial management responsibility including the review and approval of monthly, quarterly, and annual financial reporting materials and metrics for the ED and board of directors. S/he will oversee budgeting, financial forecasting, cash flow and coordination of audit activities as well as accounts payable and receivable. The ideal candidate will not only be able to reconcile financial activities but should also be skilled at capturing key data and processes in order to demonstrate the relationship between XYZ Nonprofit's goals and resulting fundraising needs.

Administration/Operations

The executive will serve as a partner to the ED on the organization's administrative and operational processes, with a goal of continuously developing and improving systems. S/he must evaluate and improve XYZ Nonprofit's information technology infrastructure, implementing new technologies to support key capabilities as required for future growth, and to support and drive key human resource initiatives.

In addition, s/he will have overall responsibility for recruitment of staff. This will include marketing, operations and management of this process. The Managing Director of Finance and Administration will also partner with ED and the rest of the management team to ensure that the focus remain on the organization's mission while maintaining the culture that makes XYZ Nonprofit unique.

Qualifications

The Managing Director of Finance and Administration will have at least 10+ years of experience, with at least five years managing the finance and administration of a $5 million to $10 million organization or business unit. The successful candidate will have experience leading planning efforts and running operationally effective organizations that have multiple functional areas. The Managing Director of Finance and Administration must harness technology solutions in order to more quickly and efficiently communicate resources needed for key activities and performance against plans. Working knowledge of public education would be helpful, but not mandatory. Nonprofit experience is a plus, with a strong preference for someone who has operated in a fast growing environment that has limited budgets and resources.

Other qualifications include:

- Demonstrated experience in financial management and accounting
- Experience with audit, legal compliance, and budget development
- Organization development, human resources management experience
- General management skills
- Proven effectiveness managing others, empowering them to make decisions
- Technologically savvy, with experience overseeing information technology staff or vendors
- Experience effectively communicating key data, including presentations to senior management, the Board or other outside partners/influencers/clients
- Success seeing beyond the numbers, identifying trends and new possibilities
- Bachelor's degree required, advanced degree and/or CPA preferred

Personal Characteristics

- Excellent interpersonal and team skills, extremely collegial
- Outstanding communications skills, written and oral
- Demonstrated resourcefulness and good judgment
- Hands-on, leads by example
- Values diversity of thought, backgrounds and perspectives
- Ability to multi-task while maintaining vigilant attention to details
- Integrity/ethics beyond reproach
- Constantly looking to apply best practices
- Predisposition to mentor and subsequently increase responsibilities as team develops
- Connection to XYZ Nonprofit's mission
